

The 2013 U.S. Health Freedom Congress

A Grand Success

Hosted by
National Health Freedom Coalition

On June 5th, thirty-one national health freedom organizations and thirty additional organizations and observers representing millions of Americans came together in Schaumburg, Illinois, to strengthen collaboration in the health freedom movement.

2013 Health Freedom Congress attendees launched their work on the first evening by participating in an Open Space dialogue session, facilitated by Denise Lewis-Premshack of Voice for HOPE, giving attendees an opportunity to express their deepest concerns and visions with each other. The following day their work continued in small groups producing action plans and returning to the larger group where the 31 Voting

Members heard the reports and deliberated in the Round.

Special plenary presentations to the Congress were made by Jason Haffley from One Ninth Media on the topic of social media and by Jeffrey Smith from Institute for Responsible Technology on the topic of successful marketing campaigns.

The event culminated with the Awards Banquet and inspiring words from the 2013 Awards Banquet Keynote speaker, Rosemary Gladstar, “godmother of American herbalism”. Awards were presented to four outstanding health freedom leaders: Jeffrey Smith, Jan Kerschner, Scott Tips and Rosemary Gladstar.

The 2013 Voting Members and attendees forged alliances and collaborative plans to ensure the vision of health freedom in our country. We encourage you to know and support these organizations and join in the health freedom movement.

The 2013 US Health Freedom Congress AWARDEES:

1. Jeffrey Smith, The Institute for Responsible Technology, for his years of game changing work alerting the people of the world regarding the dangers of genetically modified organisms, and for his work as a citizen mobilizer, organizer and advocate to help bring about the change that is giving the people the information they need to make life saving decisions about the food that eat and the seeds that they grow.

2. The Colorado Sunshine Health Freedom Foundation and Jan Kerschner for their launching in 2009 of the non-profit CSHFF, specifically to promote and protect access to natural health care in Colorado, and for their over 10-year vigilance in protecting health freedoms in Colorado, and for their work in passage of the 2013 Natural Health Consumer Protection Act.

3. Scott Tips, National Health Federation for his tireless effort at voicing the concerns of members of the human family regarding safe and healthful food supplies in International Codex meetings, especially his voicing the need for removal of human toxins from foods, and the protection of foods that are beneficial to health and well-ness. And for being selected to speak on behalf of consumers world-wide at the 50th Anniversary of Codex Alimentarius celebration in Moscow on April 10, 2013.

4. Rosemary Gladstar, Sage Mountain Herbal Retreat Center and Botanical Sanctuary, for her expansive work promoting an understanding and protection of the plants of the earth including especially her knowledge and celebration of herbs and their ecological and medicinal qualities, and her support of practitioners and manufacturers who provide herbs to the world community.

In SUMMARY: The coming together of these organizations and leaders marks another historic event in the movement to bring freedom in health back to the citizens, consumers, individuals, and health-seekers of our country. We ask you to support these organizations in working together in peaceful collaborative efforts to regain the health and strength of our great nation.
